Online Court Assistance Program- Filing for orders of protection are done online.

MyPaperwork You will create a user name and password. Then choose your desired protection order and it will walk you through a series of narrative questions and auto fill the paperwork for you. When you are finished and have signed the documents download the documents to your desk top. You will see a green "File" button that you will click on to file your request with the court.

The court will email you when and if the Judge approves the temporary order and it will include a date for the initial hearing. Please email me at amie@washeriff.net the date of the hearing if you would like my support in court. The court will send the temporary order to the Washington County Sheriff's Office for service. Please be patient, it can take up to a week for the order to be served.

Utah Legal Services 435-628-1604, after the PO is filed call to see if you qualify to have them represent you at the protective order hearing.
